

Culture, Values and Beliefs

The Culture, Values and Beliefs held by both staff and students at Adelaide Floristry School influence our attitudes and therefore, our behaviours and how we interact with one another. Making our Culture, Values and Beliefs clear is a key step in further developing Adelaide Floristry School, a local business that we are proud to represent.

Culture

As a South Australian based business, our core focus is on creating an environment that produces educated, knowledgeable and passionate floristry students that will positively contribute and influence the growth of the floristry industry.

At Adelaide Floristry School, we have created a safe and warm environment where both students and staff can feel at home, respected and free to express themselves, respectfully. We pride ourselves on our ability to adapt to external environmental factors, changes in the industry and are committed to continuous innovation and development of our services.

Values

Respect

Respect for both our staff and our students is a value upheld strongly at Adelaide Floristry School. Adelaide Floristry School staff and students have an obligation and responsibility to mutually respect each other.

At Adelaide Floristry School, our staff respect the individual learning needs of each student and strive to do their best to support the student in their learning.

Encouragement

In our endeavours to support different types of learning styles, Adelaide Floristry School staff are encouraging of students.

Our courses teach the fundamental techniques and skills of floristry, however, they do not teach 'creativity'. It is the individual student's obligation to find their creative flare and channel it when designing their floral. Students are embraced and supported during their courses as they progress and find their individual style.

Love of Learning

Love of Learning is at the core of what we do at Adelaide Floristry School. We are passionate about sharing our knowledge and experience with our students who desire to learn more about floristry whether it be for a hobby or as a pathway to enter the industry.

Adelaide Floristry School students are expected to attend class with an open mind and heart all while being curious, enthusiastic and critical learners.

Inclusivity

We have created an environment where staff and students are made to feel safe, accepted and a part of the floristry community. No matter your age, gender or skill set - you have a place at Adelaide Floristry School.

Beliefs

At Adelaide Floristry School, we believe that when you enrol in a course, you are not just enrolling in a floristry course. No matter the duration of the course, you are beginning a journey of self-development, mindfulness and are on your path to find what makes you sparkle in life.

Our courses have been designed to embrace and support students in their floristry journeys as they embark on this experience.
